

“All I have learned,
I learned from books.”

~ Abraham Lincoln

The more than you read,
the more things you know.

The more that you learn,
the more places you'll go.

~ Dr. Seuss

The background is a light blue color with a pattern of darker blue question marks of various sizes. There are also horizontal brush strokes in a medium blue color at the top and bottom of the image.

The background is white and filled with numerous gold stars of various sizes. Some stars are large and prominent, while others are small and scattered. Several strings of gold stars are draped across the top of the image, with some stars hanging from the strings. The overall theme is one of positivity and kindness.

Kindness Counts
More Than Gold Stars.
